DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, 20,31, drawn to a process for transferring and releasing substances which are air-sensitive, classified in class 436, subclass 174.
- II. Claims 15-19, drawn to a process for transferring substances which are air-sensitive, classified in class 436, subclass 9.
- III. Claims 21-30, drawn to apparatus for transferring and releasing air sensitive substances, classified in class 422, subclass 102.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the apparatus does not need to be fully electronically controlled, an operator can turn a valve by hand to remove the substance. The subcombination has separate utility such as decontaminating a substance that has been exposed to a foreign substance.

Isolating the contaminated substance, removing the contaminant and then releasing the contaminant from a container.

Inventions Group II and Group III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process can be practiced by hand, opening and closing of valves can be accomplished by hand.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Stephen Scanlone on Jun 14, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Samuel P Siefke whose telephone number is 571-272-1262. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 7:00am-5:00pm.
